Who has to take this training?
This training is required for all undergraduate, graduate, and professional students (other than those who have completed new student prevention education within the last two semesters).

Is this annual refresher required?
Yes. All continuing students are required to complete this annual refresher. The Graduate Division and the Office of the Dean of Students will communicate with students who do not complete the annual refresher. At this time, failure to complete the requirement will not result in registration status consequences for the student; however, this may change in the future, so it is important that students complete the refresher in a timely manner.

Can students request a waiver for this training?
This training is about forms of harm that are much too common, and we recognize that many people in our community have experienced violence and harassment. If a student has concerns about completing this training due to a history of trauma, please direct them to contact a confidential advocate through the PATH to Care Center office line: 510-642-1988. For 24/7 urgent support, call the Care Line at 510-643-2005.

Why is this training required?
Sexual harassment, relationship and sexual violence, stalking, and related conduct can have a long lasting negative impact on health, well-being, and professional and academic success. To foster a safe living and learning environment and increase awareness of prevention and response resources, all students must complete mandatory, annual programming. At UC Berkeley, all of our community--students, staff, and faculty alike--are expected to complete an annual training.

Why is UC Berkeley implementing this effort now?
This new annual refresher is the continuation of campus-wide efforts to prevent sexual harassment, relationship and sexual violence, and stalking. Adding an annual refresher to our existing training requirements for new students brings our campus into compliance with state-level recommendations.
